Message from Donnamarie Black, Parish Catechetical Leader

Dear Friends,

As I sit down to write this letter I am still in awe with the success of our Summer Intensive Program. I know we beg for volunteers A LOT but to make things run smoothly and efficiently it takes many hands. As the saying goes "many hands make light work". I would like to take this time to thank all of our volunteers who give of their time so effortlessly.

One of the biggest events we have for our youth in our parish is Summer Intensive PREP (Parish Religious Education Program). Every summer we have a two-week program where the youth of our parish are taught their grade level religion. This program consists of 35 hours of class time, music and art. All geared to teach the love of God. I know some of you may be shaking your heads and saying.... How can a child learn all there is to learn about their religion in just two weeks. Believe me, I was skeptical also at first but the more I do it the more I love this program. Most of the children love coming and thoroughly enjoy being here. They WANT to come. They have no other commitments. No other classes taking up space in their brain. No extracurricular activities taking precedence over their religion classes.

With all that being said it is also an intense program on the teachers, aides, and other volunteers to keep this program running smoothly. All teachers not only voluntarily give up two weeks of their time to come and teach but also need to keep these children engaged on a beautiful summer day. I do not believe these teachers know how much of an impact they have on these children's lives. It might not show in the classroom when the kids are acting up but the kids will remember them for the rest of their lives. At some point in their lives, they will remember that wonderful PREP teacher who was so filled with the Holy Spirit and the love of God they gave up their time to teach them. And hopefully will say, I want to be filled with the love of God and share it just like they did. Maybe not all in the classroom but in everyday life.

Besides the teachers these two weeks would not have been possible without our support volunteers; our aide and snack team. Our aide would tirelessly run up and down the steps, here and there, getting whatever was needed. As for the snack team, I cannot express how wonderful it was to have someone running the kitchen for me this year. This group of volunteers took over the snack duties for me so I could continue to assist the teachers and students with their needs.

Together we made these two weeks the best they could be and I thank every one of you from the bottom of my heart!

Donnamarie Black

Stewardship

August 25, 2019

21st Sunday in Ordinary Time
Stewardship Standards

"For behold, some are last who will be first and some are first who will be last." LUKE 13:30

Our standards in society are different from God's standards. We often rank people by what they have, how powerful they are, or how successful they are. Jesus reminds us that God will not judge us by the same earthly standards. When God asks you, "what have you done with the gifts I have given you?" Will Stewardship be your response?

Family Reflection Corner

Weekly Readings Reflections

21st Sunday in Ordinary Time

Choose one of the following activities as a way to further reflect on the Sunday readings:

- Plan a family meal to celebrate a culture different from your own. Talk about how God loves all people of all cultures. Prepare foods and use table decorations to represent the culture of your choice. Involve all family members in preparing and serving the meal.
- Discuss with your family the need for discipline in your home. Review the family rules in light of the Christian call to live as children of God. Ask if any rules should be added. List any new family rules on a sheet of paper and place them on the refrigerator.
- Create a prayer space in your home and place a globe or map of the world in the center of the space. Invite family members to reflect on how God loves all people from all parts of the world. Have each family member write a short prayer for world peace on a sheet of paper and place it near the globe or map. Read the prayers out loud and finish by offering each other a sign of peace.

Holy Hour of Intercession

The Youth and Young Adults Office at the Diocese of Camden requested that parishes come together in Intercessory Prayers for our youth. With so many daily distractions and temptations negatively affecting the mind, body, soul and spirit of our young people, it is important that we pray for healthy interactions and correct moral values in their lives. We are therefore providing time each month when parishioners can come together to pray for all children and young adults, as well as all the intentions they hold in their hearts.

Our next holy hour will be Monday, Sept. 16, 2019
(the third Monday of the month),
at 9:00 AM at Kelly Hall

CATHOLIC SCHOOL EDUCATION

A Prayer to Beging the School Year

Blessed are you, Lord God, Creator of body and mind and heart;
you have sent the Spirit of wisdom and knowledge to guide your people in all their ways.

At the beginning of this new school year (or semester/term)
we implore your mercy:
bless the students, teachers, and staff of WCHS and CTC, that together we may grow in faith, hope, and love
as we learn from you and each other how to follow your Son Jesus.

Expand the horizons of our minds,
that we may grow in wisdom,
understanding, and knowledge;
deepen our commitment to seek the truth of your ways;
and enliven our faith to reach out to those in need.

Glory and praise to you, Lord God,
in the Church and in Christ Jesus forever and ever.

R/. Amen

Question: What is the Sanctuary Lamp?

Answer:

A sanctuary lamp, chancel lamp, altar lamp, everlasting light, or eternal flame is a light that shines before the altar of sanctuaries in many Jewish places of worship. Prescribed in Exodus 27:20-21 of the Torah, this icon has taken on different meanings in each of the religions that have adopted it. The passage, which refers to prescriptions for the tabernacle, states: "And thou shalt command the children of Israel, that they bring thee pure oil olive beaten for the light, to cause the lamp to burn always".

The General Instruction of the Roman Missal in the Catholic Church, for instance, states (in 316): "In accordance with traditional custom, near the tabernacle a special lamp, fueled by oil or wax, should be kept alight to indicate and honor the presence of Christ." The sanctuary lamp, also called a chancel lamp, is placed before the tabernacle or aumbry in Roman Catholic churches as a sign that the Lord is present, Old Catholic, and Anglican churches as a sign that the Blessed Sacrament is reserved or stored. It is also found in the chancel of Lutheran and Methodist churches to indicate the presence of Christ in the sanctuary, as well as a belief in the Real Presence of Christ in the Eucharist. The sanctuary lamp may also be seen in Eastern Orthodox Churches. Other Christian denominations burn the lamp to show that the light of Christ always burns in a sin-darkened world. With influence from Judaism in the Old Testament, God told Moses that a lamp filled with the pure oil should perpetually burn in the Tabernacle (Ex 27:20-21). This is the precedent for the Catholic Church's custom of burning a candle (at all times) before the tabernacle – the gold house where the Eucharistic Body of Christ is reserved under lock and key. In Jewish practice, this Altar lamp is known for its Hebrew name, ner tamid.

Such sanctuary or tabernacle lamps are often colored red, though this is not prescribed by law. This serves to distinguish this light from other votive lights within the church. In the Catholic Church, red is widely used despite the preference for white expressed by Fortescue. The use of multiple lights, always in odd numbers, i.e., three, five, seven, or more, in place of a single lamp has now become rarer, though it is still seen in some older Catholic churches and in eastern Christian churches. The lamp may be suspended by a rope or chain over the tabernacle or near the entry of the sanctuary, or it may be affixed to a wall; it is also sometimes placed on a ledge beside the tabernacle or on an individual stand placed on the floor, as seen in the image of St. Martin's church, Kortrijk, Belgium, in the article Church tabernacle. Oil lamps or candles may be used.
