3rd Sunday of Lent
Patient Stewards

"He said to the gardener, 'For three years now I have come in search of fruit on this fig tree but have found none.'" - LUKE 13:7

We can all be like the barren fig tree at times. Do you cling to what you have, or do you generously share with others? How will you respond when God asks you what you have done with all the gifts He has given you? Remember, not only are we called to be generous; we are called to develop and nurture our gifts as Stewards; and return them with increase. We are called to be generous with all of gifts; especially the one that means the most to you.

Planned Giving

St. Francis of Assisi taught us that it is in giving that we receive.

Please consider remembering your parish when planning your estate. You could continue to support your parish into the foreseeable future through your planned giving. Please call us to discuss the possibility of giving through items like stock gifts, charitable gift annuities, charitable remainder trusts, real estate gifts and life insurance gifts.

Through your generosity the good works of the Church, her spiritual and corporal works of mercy will continue for years to come!

My sisters and brothers in Christ,

In a memorable scene from the disturbing film Unforgiven, a young gun slinger is literally shaking in his boots in shock and remorse after having shot a man dead for the first time. In a weak attempt to justify himself, the young man says, “Well, I reckon he had it coming.” To this the grizzled old gun slinger played by Clint Eastwood replies, “We all got it coming, kid.”

And that’s Jesus’ point in Luke’s Gospel: finger pointing and spending our days coming up with graduated systems by which to rate evil and sinfulness in other people just won’t do. Compared with the shining holiness of Almighty God, we all of us need to repent (and repentance is not apparently graded on the curve). One person does not need to present a mouse-size portion of repentance whereas another needs to generate an elephant-size portion: repentance is repentance is repentance. It’s all the same, as is the divine solution and response.

Apparently about the only mistake a person can make—aside from believing he or she is beyond the pale of needing repentance in the first place—is to seek ways to ratchet our own spiritual status higher by downwardly comparing ourselves to people we deem worse off than ourselves. Today’s Gospel encourages us to compare ourselves to just one other person: Jesus, the pioneer of our faith, our elder brother in the family of God. When we compare ourselves upwardly to Jesus, that action thwarts any temptation to compare ourselves downwardly to anybody else.

Yes, we all have a tendency to pay more attention to the sins of others than we do to our own sins. Yes, sometimes we use our time to zero in on another person’s problems (real or imagined) precisely as a way to prevent ourselves from having to look in the mirror. Despite the grim tone of Luke’s Gospel, there IS GOOD NEWS in today’s Gospel, and it is this: there is still time. We can still repent. We can still let the Holy Spirit turn our lives around and cultivate in us the fruit of that same Spirit in ways that will let us reflect the glory of our God to everyone. This is a wholly appropriate message for Lent, of course, but really for any time.

Peace,
Deacon Rich

Readings of the Week

Reading I : Exodus 3:1-8a, 13-15

God's name is: "I AM WHO AM".

- In the first reading from Exodus, Moses questions God's call.
- God's answer, "I AM who Am" has lead believers to contemplate the meaning of God's reply to Moses.
- Today's passage shows that even in the moment of personal revelation, God remains a mystery.

Reading II : 1 Corinthians 10:1-6, 10-12

What is written about Moses is to help us.

- The reading from 1 Corinthians is Paul's meditation on the fate of the people who were delivered in the Exodus.
- Not all of the people who were freed remained faithful to God.
- Paul stresses that being delivered from sin through Baptism is not enough. We must continue to turn back to God when we have turned away.

Gospel : Luke 13:1-9

Jesus tells us to repent.

- Today's Gospel story was Jesus' answer to those who judged others through the theory of retribution.
- Humans cannot see enough to judge God's purpose in events.
- The parable illustrates God's patience concerning human sin.

Saint of the Week:

Paul, Apostle and Martyr, c. 5-65

This saint was originally called by a Jewish name, Saul. He was born in the year A.D. 5 and studied under a renowned rabbi in Jerusalem. He became a rigid adherent of Jewish law, and an obsessed persecutor of the Christians. But one day, Christ appeared to Saul and his heart and life were turned around forever. He took on the name Paul and became a great missionary for the early Church, writing many letters to support or challenge new Christians, and helping expand the faith around the Mediterranean Sea.

Feast Day: We celebrate the conversion of St. Paul on January 25, while the Solemnity of Sts. Peter and Paul, Apostles, is celebrated on June 29.

Paul's message today: None of us are likely to have as strong an influence on the Church as Paul has had through history. However, we are all capable of influencing our community and those with whom we live and work.

- Ask yourself: what kind of an influence have I been on my family? My neighbors? My co-workers?
