Stewardship

August 25, 2024
21st Sunday in Ordinary Time
Living Stewardship

“Whoever eats my flesh and drinks my blood remains in me and I in him.” John 6:56

This line from Scripture is what ultimately separates Catholics who live Stewardship from our Protestant brothers and sisters. Jesus is really present in the bread and wine that are consecrated at Holy Mass. It is His actual body and blood that we consume. This is the greatest gift that we can receive. The Eucharist shows us how great of love that Jesus has for each of us.

Planned Giving

St. Francis of Assisi taught us that it is in giving that we receive. Please consider remembering your parish when planning your estate. You could continue to support your parish into the foreseeable future through your planned giving. Please call us to discuss the possibility of giving through stock gifts, charitable gift annuities, charitable remainder trusts, real estate gifts and life insurance gifts. Through your generosity the good works of the Church, her spiritual and corporal works of mercy will continue for years to come!

Technology is here to stay.

Everyday, more and more of life's everyday tasks are made easier and automatic through ever-evolving technology.

One way technology can make your life easier is signing up for online giving with Parish Giving™.

Please enroll today by visiting our parish website.

Thank you for your continued support of our parish.

From the Desk of Kevin Quinn, Parish Administrator

Dear Friends,

Last week, my wife and I dropped our oldest daughter off at college, The University of Florida, to be exact. That's such a strange line to write. Even as I look at it on my computer screen, it feels like someone else wrote it. Certainly, that can't be my reality. Certainly, my children aren't yet so grown as to be peeling off our family unit. Certainly, I'm not old enough to be at this life stage. But, this is my reality. My children are reaching maturity, and I am old enough for this. To emphasize that point...our younger daughter will be leaving for college next year!

However, being old enough for something and being prepared for something are two different things entirely. I wasn't prepared for the deluge of emotions that have poured over me these last few days.

The weeks and days leading up to my daughter leaving, I was feeling mostly good. I kept telling myself that you can't pre-grieve, so why waste time with sadness before it's necessary? There were times when flashes of melancholy would sweep over my mind, but it didn't stick around long. When people asked, I answered truthfully. I was really excited for my daughter, and I was also really worried about it all. College was a fun experience for me, and I was excited that she was going to experience the adventure. Besides, she worked very hard to get where she is, and I had no intention of robbing her of the opportunity to fully relish in her accomplishments at the school she loved. But I was concerned with the rigor, size, and distance.

It's true what they say. "You don't know what you don't know."

As time got closer to departure, her room was slowly being packed away and the emptiness of it was starting to take shape. Slowly, over the days more of her things were disappearing from her room and I started to envision the looming void. On the last night before we left, I had one of those movie-like flashback scenes flood my mind. In just a moment it felt like I saw her whole life fast forward, and it took my breath away. I wasn't prepared for that kind of grief and gratitude. I couldn't do anything but sit on the edge of her bed and sob. Yet, even still, I wasn't sure why I was crying. Was it sadness? Loss? Mourning? Joy? Thankfulness? I can only guess that it was all of them. So, we packed her up and moved her away. As long as I live, that moment of leaving her in the lobby of her first dorm will be etched into my memory as deep as any other moment in her life. I eventually released my grip around her and on that drive away my heart ached with grief and swelled with pride.

I have had a few moments of overwhelming emotion this past week. I have wondered often about whether I (and my wife) have done enough to prepare her for life as an adult. Have we given her what she needs to walk upright in a bent world? Have we shown her what Love looks like? Have we modeled a life of faith for her, one that she can imitate? Time will tell...but she made a comment to me when we were unpacking and setting up her room that made me believe that we had. She held up a little pouch and said, "Dad, I brought my Rosary with me."

I want to thank Wildwood Catholic Academy for providing a space that allows the students to embrace and understand the power of praying the Rosary.

With gratitude and trust,

Kevin

Readings of the Week

Reading I : Joshua 24:1-2a, 15-17, 18b

We will serve the Lord!

- The Book of Joshua describes the story of the Israelites as they take possession of the Promised Land.
- The people are a new generation of Israel.
- Joshua gathers the people in the center of the land at Shechem to renew their covenant commitment to God.

Reading II : Ephesians 5:21-32

Christ loves us as spouses love each other.

- The reading from the Letter to the Ephesians describes the mutual respect that should prevail in ordinary human relationships because of the new life shared in Christ.
- The relationship of marriage is particularly significant because the marriage relationship stands as a symbol of the covenant relationship between the people and God.
- The fidelity and love between wife and husband symbolize the fidelity and love between God and the people and between Christ and his Church.

Gospel : John 6:60-69

You have the words of eternal life.

- Jesus' divinity is clearly implied in the Gospel of John.
- In today's passage the disciples are faced with a choice.
- Peter, representing the Twelve, affirms their decision to stay with Jesus.

Family Reflection Corner

Theme: Jesus - the Bread of Life Eternal

Suggested text for faith sharing: Today's Gospel

Step One: Listen to the Word

As you hear this reading, what words or phrases strike you? What in this reading touches your heart?

Step Two: Look into Your Life

Question for Children: Who and what help you believe in Jesus?

Question for Youth: Who do you know who really struggles with believing? What can you do to help them struggle through doubt?

Question for Adults: To whom do you go when you are looking for meaning or answers to life's questions?

Funerals: To be arranged with the funeral director. Please call a funeral home of your choice.

Sacrament of the Sick: Anytime . Please call the office at 609.522.2709 .

Sanctuary Lamp: The Sanctuary Lamp will burn this week in loving memory of:

St Ann: William (Bill) Sweeny r/b Friends of Lazarus House

Prayer Opportunities

Holy Hour of Intercession

The Youth and Young Adults Office at the Diocese of Camden requested that parishes come together in Intercessory Prayers for our youth. With so many daily distractions and temptations negatively affecting the mind, body, soul and spirit of our young people, it is important that we pray for healthy interactions and correct moral values in their lives. We meet after the 8:30AM Mass 3rd Monday of month. At Assumption Church. Next holy hour will be September 16

Homebound Ministry

Thank you to those who have recently joined our Homebound Ministry. With the increase of homebound parishioners and the limited number of ministers /priests, we welcome extraordinary ministers to join this fulfilling ministry. Your visits to our homebound can be on a weekly, bi-monthly or monthly basis. If the Lord is calling you to this ministry, please contact Karen at 609-602-6106.

If you or your loved one is homebound and would like a visit and communion brought to them, please contact the office.

RESPECT LIFE

Building a culture that cherishes and protects every human life.

RESPECT LIFE MINISTRY

Respect Life Ministry strives to build a culture that supports and protects every human life through prayer, education and action by working to affirm the sacredness of life from the moment of conception to a natural death while also promoting the importance and sanctity of marriage and family.

Our Respect Life group meets the first Monday of the month.

If you would like to join in the fight to respect life from conception until natural death, please contact:

SAINT OF THE WEEK: Bernard of Clairvaux, Abbot and Doctor, 1090-1153 Honored Aug. 20

Bernard, the third son of seven children of a noble family, was born at the family castle near Dijon. Upon the death of his mother and after a misspent youth, Bernard decided to lead a religious life.

In 1112, he persuaded thirty-one of his friends and relatives (including his brothers) to go with him to the first Cistercian monastery at Cîteaux. He helped save it and in 1115, Bernard was sent to open a new monastery at what was later to be called Clairvaux. This monastery was to become the mother house of sixty-eight Cistercian monasteries.

Bernard was given many assignments by the pope and rulers and was certainly the dominant influence in religious and political affairs of the twelfth century. His works included, among other things, a treatise written for the guidance of Pope Eugene, more than three hundred sermons, and five hundred letters. Through all of this, Bernard's greatest desire was to return to the strict monastic life of his youth. He had a great devotion to Mary and to the Baby Jesus fostered by a vision, which he had experienced in his youth, of the divine birth.

St. Bernard, called the "Mellifluous Doctor" for his way with the spoken word, was canonized in 1174 and was declared a Doctor of the Church in 1830. He is considered the last of the Fathers of the Church. St. Bernard is the patron of chandlers (a person who makes or sells candles). A memorial honors this saint on August 20.

REPORT SEXUAL ABUSE

An independent, toll-free number has been established by the Diocese of Camden to help callers report cases of sexual abuse by priests, deacons, religious, employees and/or volunteers. Calls are handled by a licensed clinical social worker. In accord with state law, cases of child sexual abuse are reported to the N.J. Division of Child Protection and Permanency and law enforcement.

August is Gastroparesis Awareness Month

Gastroparesis occurs when the muscles in the stomach aren't functioning properly and cause slower than normal movement of food which results in the delay of emptying the food out of the stomach. While not as widely seen as GERD or IBS, it is equally if not more impacting for a person to deal with.

Gastroparesis symptoms can include: chronic nausea, bloating, weight loss, and feeling full after eating only a small or typical amount of food.
